joanna tulsa boutique: The Preacher's Wife Kate Bowler, 2020-09-15 Although most evangelical traditions bar women from ordained ministry, many women have carved out unofficial positions of power in their husbands' spiritual empires or their own ministries. The biggest stars write bestselling books, grab high ratings on Christian television, and even preach. Bowler offers a sympathetic and revealing portrait of megachurch women celebrities, showing how they must balance the demands of celebrity culture and conservative, male-dominated faiths. And black celebrity preachers' wives carry a special burden of respectability. A compelling account of women's search for spiritual authority in the age of celebrity. -- adapted from jacket joanna tulsa boutique: In the Rearview Mirror Lee Livingston, 2025-04-03 In 1961 the interstate highways were just being built, JFK was a newly elected President full of promise and two best friends after high school graduation in Cleveland, Ohio, drove west for summer jobs at Sequoia National Park. In just a few weeks, the two 18-year-olds realized they really needed to be back in Cleveland to spend the last summer before college with all their friends. So, Dango (A black nickname for a white boy) and Lee, made plans to head back. Not planned - Lee driving his 1956 Pontiac Star Chief off the road and into the air before the trip. Ride with them as they decide to hitchhike over 2000 miles back across the country. A true, wild and wonderful, only in America adventure ensues. Experience 1961 Las Vegas through the boys' eyes. Encounter a Santa Fe Bull. Get their take on Blaze Starr. Hop a freight train across two states. Find out how Dango got his name. Discover an America of wide open roads and wide open people. See the positive relations between races before the America of assassinations and riots in the later '60s. Not only do the boys learn about their country, but they also begin to learn more about themselves. It's a classic new road story and a revealing new coming of age tale. Every new ride, a new story. It's about a Freedom, we are not likely to see again. Exciting, warm, funny, touching. and tragic. A can't miss trip for all ages looking to experience the innocent and guilty pleasures of the early '60s. Bill Harris, Entertainment Tonight joanna tulsa boutique: Katherine Mansfield and Literary Modernism Janet Wilson, Gerri Kimber, Susan Reid, 2011-05-05 Katherine Mansfield's arrival in London in 1908 marked the start of her professional career as a writer and this study marks a revival of her reputation as one of the foremost practitioners of the short story. The international line-up of contributors attests to Mansfield's global appeal. By discussing her fiction in relation to her life, the contributors to this critical work present reinterpretations and readings. Enhanced by new transcriptions of manuscripts and access to her diaries and letters, these readings combine biographical approaches with critical-theoretical ones and focus not only on philosophy and fiction, but class and gender, biography/autobiography. The historical and aesthetic studies of Mansfield's work all take place within a framework of modernist literature, criticism and theory, thereby expanding our understanding of what it means to be a Modernist while allocating Mansfield a firm place in any current study of Modernism.

joanna tulsa boutique: Calling in the Remnant Joanna, 2010-11 Do you bounce from church to church wondering why the churches today do not resemble the early church in the Bible? Are you told you are too sensitive or worse yet, in rebellion, when you refuse to sit quietly by, when people are lied to and manipulated into submitting themselves to a corrupt system? Are you told you will never find a perfect church since they are all made up of imperfect people, like you? I don't buy it? John the Baptist called for the church to repent to prepare the way for the birth of our Lord. Today I am calling for the church to repent, the whole Christian church, in preparation for Our Lord's Second Coming! I am Calling In The Remnant to be unified not in possessions, or property, but in unity of purpose, looking to survive what is to come as the true body of Christ, not enabling dysfunction but encouraging ALL of the saints to keep the faith and finish the race. JOANNA moved to Tulsa in 1986, a single mom of three little boys, completed her Bachelor's Degree at Oral Roberts University, and began her search for where God wanted her to serve and belong. Eventually, God led her to minister with the homeless, where she found fulfillment in helping people that truly needed her help and appreciated her knowledge and experience about alcoholism and dysfunctional families. In 1992, she married her current husband Barry, who had been homeless off and on for 12 years. Sober now for 19 years, he currently works for DOC as a maintenance technician. Their son, Jacob, is now a junior in High School. Joanna's first book Are Christians the Hitlers of Today? A Search for Truth is also published by Xulon Press. joanna tulsa boutique: Women at Risk Noonie Fortin, 2002 Women At Risk: We Also Served is about women who served our country since before World War II to present day. All branches of the military are included, officers and enlisted personnel, as well as women who volunteered as civilians going to a war zone, those that stayed stateside, and other loved ones. Included are clerks, drivers, heavy equipment operators, nurses, USO and ARC volunteers, and more. These women explain some of the things they did or do in the military or as civilians. They tell us why they volunteered, how their lives were changed, and answer the question, "Would I do it again?" More than sixty women are profiled in this book. Their stories are finally being shared—many for the first time. This book is for readers of all ages including students. It will encourage patriotism as you read each chapter. They encourage both the reader and listener to talk more and ask questions about their own family military background. Noonie Fortin realized there was a need for this type of book each time she entered a bookstore and couldn't find very many books about women who served their country.

joanna tulsa boutique: Greyhound Joanna Pocock, 2025-08-12 Combining history, reportage, and nature writing with intimate moments of reflection, Greyhound tells of the journey from miscarriage to parenthood, and the purpose creativity gives to our lives when we feel purposeless In 2006, in the wake of several miscarriages, Joanna Pocock traveled by Greyhound bus across the United States from Detroit to Los Angeles. Seventeen years later, she undertakes the same journey, revisiting the cities, edgelands, highways, and motels in the footsteps of the few women writers—Simone de Beauvoir, Ethel Mannin, and Irma Kurtz—who also chronicled their road trips across the United States. Combining memoir, reportage, environmental writing, and literary criticism, Greyhound is a moving and immersive book that captures an America in the throes of late capitalism with all its beauty, horror, and complexity.

joanna tulsa boutique: Women and Work Christine Leiren Mower, Susanne Weil, 2010-08-11 While issues surrounding women and work may be more subtle today than in the past, problems of workplace equity, child-rearing, and domestic labor pose problems of balance that continue to evade solution as women today face substantial shifts in the meanings and practices of marriage, work, and reproduction amid a globalized economy. The essays in Women and Work: The Labors of Self-Fashioning explore how nineteenth- and twentieth-century US and British writers represent the work of being women—where “work” is defined broadly to encompass not only paid labor inside and outside the home, but also the work of performing femininity and domesticity. How did nineteenth- and twentieth-century US and British writers revise then-contemporary social assumptions about who should be performing work, and for what purpose? How fully did these writers perceive the class implications of their arguments for taking jobs outside the home? How does work, both inside and outside the home, contribute to female identity and, conversely, how does it promote what legal theorist Kenji Yoshino terms the demands of “covering”—women’s strategic use of stereotypes of femininity and masculinity to succeed in the marketplace? In articles appropriate for both upper-level undergraduate and graduate students in literature and literary history, women’s studies, feminist and gender studies, contributors engage these questions, covering both canonical and popular “middlebrow” nineteenth- and twentieth-century writers such as Gilman, Cather, Alcott, Schreiner, Wharton, Le Sueur, Gissing, Wood, Lewis and Mitchell. Women and Work will also interest scholars concerned with this developing discourse.

joanna tulsa boutique: The Walled Garden Lawrence M. Friedman, Joanna L. Grossman, 2022-04-11 Privacy, in human history, is a relatively recent concept. Nobody had much privacy in the Middle Ages. Even kings and queens lacked privacy: it was an age when crowds watched a queen give birth, and the king received visitors while on the chamber pot. Technology and concepts of privacy grew up together—as both friends and enemies. For example, the late 19th century invention of the candid camera made it possible, for the first time, to take someone’s picture without that person’s consent. This fact was in the background of the classic article by Warren and Brandeis that launched the right of privacy. Today, we have smart phones with cameras, selfies, the Internet, surveillance cameras, and tools that can look through walls, smell through walls, see through walls. Dangers to privacy have multiplied enormously, and we have only just begin figuring how to handle the change. This book is timely as our basic understandings of privacy are challenged by modern technology, changing social mores, and evolving legal understandings that both reflect and reinforce underlying changes in society. It is likely to be of interest to graduate and undergraduate students, scholars, and potentially other professionals with an interest in law and social norms.

joanna tulsa boutique: Are Christians the Hitlers of Today? Joanna, 2009-04 Ever gone to church thinking you were in a safe place, only to find out that the pastor was having an affair with the choir director's wife? Remember when all those priests molested those young boys, some who were altar boys in the church? Do you know that Hitler professed to be a Christian? Ever been conned into giving money to the church, only to be left penniless and alone? Go with Joanna on her own spiritual journey, battling the dictators in her life and finding some of the keys to emotional healing. See how total surrender to a just and loving God can expose the errors in your thinking and bring you to an understanding of truth. What is truth? Pontius Pilate asked Jesus this question. Would you like to know the answer? Joanna was born in Connecticut. Married in 1977, she moved to Rhode Island. In 1979 she began attending Al-anon meetings which changed the course of her life. The next seven years took her on an incredible journey of spiritual, mental, and emotional healing. Divorced with three small sons, she headed to Tulsa OK in 1986 to attend Oral Roberts University. Although people in Tulsa had many valid spiritual experiences, they were very often emotionally bankrupt. AA and Al-anon were not promoted. Joanna's years in recovery in Rhode Island, prepared her for the frustration she found in Tulsa attempting to walk out her calling. She was ordained through Ministers for Christ Assembly of Churches and spent eight years ministering with the homeless. She has recorded two albums: The Dance and Heed My Call. She lives in Sand Springs Oklahoma with her new husband and teen-age son. Graduated from college, her other boys are grown and married and live in Fort Worth Texas. joanna tulsa boutique: Notable Czech and Slovak Americans Miloslav Rechcigl Jr., 2021-12-14 The contribution to the development and culture of America by the immigrants from the territory of former Czechoslovakia, be they Czechs or Slovaks, or Bohemians, as they used to be called, has been enormous. Yet little has been written about the subject. This compendium is part of an effort to correct this glaring deficiency. In this compendium, the focus is on religion, law and jurisprudence, business and entrepreneurship and the notable people in the government, with the narration and assessment about the Czechoslovak American explorers, adventurers and pioneers who paved the way for the colonists and settlers who followed them. An important role among them played the social movement activists. some of whose ideas won the respect and ultimately acceptance by general population, to which subject an entire section has been devoted. Among other, you will find among them abolitionists, freethinkers. suffragists, civil & human rights activists, environmentalists and conservationists, climate change activists, philanthropists, inventors and even futurists or futurologists. Their innovative ideas, inevitably, led to the rise of the plethora of Czech and Slovak American leaders, encompassing, practically, every aspect of human endeavor. As stated in the Foreword, this reference will serve as a powerful research tool for many years to come for scholars and all Czechs and Slovaks on both sides of the Atlantic.
