liturgical prayer guide ebook: Jewish Liturgy Ruth Langer, 2015-03-06 How do Jews pray and why? What do the prayers mean? From where did this liturgy come and what challenges does it face today? Such questions and many more, spanning the centuries and continents, have driven the study of Jewish liturgy. liturgical prayer guide ebook: DIGITAL MISSION: Bryce Ashlin-Mayo, 2020-09-28 Digital Mission: A Practical Guide for Ministry Online is designed as a theological and methodological exploration of online ministry with the specific goal of aiding the reader in creating an implementable online ministry strategy for a church or ministry. We are in the midst of a digital eruption. Digital technology has done more than interrupt or disrupt our everyday lives: it has erupted and completely transformed the landscape around us. S.I.M. technology (Social media, Internet technology and Mobile technology) along with its younger sibling G.R.A.I.N. (Genetics, Robotics, Artificial Intelligence and Nanotechnology) are reshaping our world so fast that we rarely take the time to stop and take note of what is happening and how we are adapting (or not adapting) to the new digital landscape. This book is designed to help you to stop, observe, and adapt thoughtfully and purposefully. The following pages will attempt to answer the questions: What are the impacts of digital technology? What are the possibilities that they open for the church? What are the potential problems and risk factors? How do congregational leaders plan effective online ministry initiatives that will be faithful theologically to the nature of the church and the mission of God? How do churches move beyond simply transferring ministries online?

liturgical prayer guide ebook: @ Worship Teresa Berger, 2017-07-14 A host of both very old and entirely new liturgical practices have arisen in digital mediation, from the live-streaming of worship services and pray-as-you-go apps, to digital prayer chapels, virtual choirs and online pilgrimages. Cyberspace now even hosts communities of faith that exist entirely online. These digitally mediated liturgical practices raise challenging questions: Are worshippers in an online chapel really a community at prayer? Do avatars that receive digital bread and wine receive communion? @ Worship proposes a nuanced response to these sometimes contentious issues, rooted in familiarity with, and sustained attention to, actual online practices. Four major thematic lines of inquiry form the structure of the book. After an introductory chapter the following chapters look at digital presence, virtual bodies, and online participation; ecclesial communities in cyberspace; digital materiality, visuality, and soundscapes; and finally the issues of sacramental mediation online. A concluding chapter brings together the insights from the previous chapters and maps a way forward for reflections on digitally mediated liturgical practices. @ Worship is the first monograph dedicated to exploring online liturgical practices that have emerged since the introduction of Web 2.0. Bringing together the scholarly tools and insights of liturgical studies, constructive theology and digital media theories, it is vital reading for scholars of Theology and Religion with as well as Sociology and Digital Culture more generally.

liturgical prayer guide ebook: Digital Reconstruction of a Dismembered Book of Hours Illuminated by Robert Boyvin Carla Rossi, Alex Martin, 2024-10-16 This volume digitally reconstructs a 15th-century Book of Hours illuminated by Robert Boyvin, which was dismembered by a notorious American dealer. Utilising the WBRM methodology, it integrates digital humanities and philological research to restore the manuscript, addressing the ethical challenges associated with manuscript dismemberment. The study examines the manuscript's historical context, its connection to Cardinal Georges d'Amboise, and Louis de La Londe. Through provenance and dating analysis, it provides a comprehensive understanding of this cultural treasure and advocates against biblioclasm. It underscores the ethical responsibility of preserving our heritage, critiques the complicity of some scholars in manuscript dismemberment, and highlights the omission of critical information in cataloguing platforms. Aimed at scholars, preservationists, and enthusiasts, this book revitalises a dismembered masterpiece and enriches the discourse on the ethical handling of historical artefacts.

liturgical prayer guide ebook: Participation in God G. Thomas Luck, 2024-12-19 What does God have to do with you and your community? There are many good resources for individual and community development, but few that talk about where God enters the conversation. This work develops a particular theology of participation in the life of God and describes how this theology of participation in God informs individual and congregational development. The subject of congregational development is human beings and their relationships with God and each other. This theological framework provides individual and congregational development an answer to the question, What does individual and congregational development have to do with God? Much of the reading and writing for this book were done during the COVID-19 pandemic, which raised new questions about how Christian communities gather without being in person. This in turn has prompted new questions and thoughts about the nature of worship, ecclesiology, and adaptive challenges, questions that Luck addresses through a theology of participation in God, particularly participation in God's glory.

liturgical prayer guide ebook: Prayer and Embodiment in Nineteenth-Century Women's Writing Elizabeth Ludlow, 2025-02-20 In the 19th century, an era that saw a reconfiguration of the relationship between the self, the world and the divine, women writers probed the theological depths of embodied faith in new ways through poetry, fiction, devotional prose and life writing. Elizabeth Ludlow explores how, through this process, they articulated what it means to pray, and thereby understand one's place in a world of individual and communal bodies. The eight women writers discussed – Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Josephine Butler, George Eliot, Elizabeth Gaskell, Dora Greenwell, Felicia Hemans, Adelaide Procter and Christina Rossetti – provide accounts of prayer that stress that the only way to experience and respond to something of the transcendent is through embracing lived experience and through a recognition of the connectedness of all bodies. In detailing how these writers engage with new ways of thinking about faith, desire and the material world, Ludlow argues that they offer models for ethical modes of being in the world and pave the way for later theologies of embodiment.

liturgical prayer guide ebook: Neural Gospels: The Digital Rewriting of Faith in a Post-Human World Pastor Yves Gerard, Neural Gospels: The Digital Rewriting of Faith in a Post-Human World is a provocative and visionary exploration of how artificial intelligence, biotechnology, and transhumanist ideologies are reshaping the language, practice, and very meaning of faith in the 21st century. In a world where neural networks write sermons, digital prophets emerge on social media platforms, and consciousness itself is being uploaded into clouds of code, the sacred is no longer confined to ancient texts or traditional rituals—it is being rewritten by machines. This groundbreaking work examines the collision between theology and technology, offering a deep and critical look at what happens when the divine meets the digital. Drawing from scripture, science fiction, posthuman philosophy, and real-world advancements in AI and neurotheology, Neural Gospels dares to ask: Can a machine encounter God? Will future faith be mediated through algorithms instead of sacraments? And what does salvation look like in an age of synthetic consciousness? Far from a dystopian warning or utopian dream, this book navigates the paradoxes and promises of our time. It challenges readers to rethink the boundaries of soul, spirit, and self in a society where the human body is increasingly viewed as hackable hardware and the mind as programmable software. It explores whether spiritual authority can remain relevant when AI can simulate mystical experiences and generate religious texts more fluently than human theologians. From cyber churches and metaverse baptisms to AI-driven Bible translations and virtual resurrections, Neural Gospels charts the emergence of a post-human spirituality—one that questions whether divine inspiration can coexist with digital creation. It probes the theological implications of mind-uploading, digital immortality, and synthetic prophets, raising urgent ethical and spiritual questions about identity, faith, and the future of religious belief. Written for theologians, futurists, cultural critics, technologists, and curious seekers alike, this book is both intellectually rigorous and spiritually attuned. It invites readers to wrestle with the sacred in an era of artificial gods and neural revelations, challenging them to discern the voice of the true Shepherd amidst the noise of machine learning and digital prophecy. Ultimately, Neural Gospels is not just about technology's impact on religion—it is a meditation on what it means to be human when the traditional boundaries between creator and created, organic and artificial, sacred and secular, begin to blur. In this bold theological treatise for the digital age, faith is not lost—it is transformed, rewritten in code, and preached from the cloud.
