paris bennett 2023 updates: Middle East and North Africa Economic Update Roberta Gatti, Federico Bennett, Hoda Assem, Rana Lotfi, Gianluca Mele, Asif Islam, Ilias Suvanov, 2024-04-08 The global economy is in its third year of deceleration amidst declining inflation and oil prices. The MENA region grew at 1.9 percent in 2023 and is forecasted to grow at 2.7 percent in 2024. And for the first time since the pandemic, MENA oil exporters and importers will grow at similar rates. The tragedy of the conflict in the Middle East has increased uncertainty. Rising debt leaves many countries in the region exposed. This report unpacks the nature of debt in the region. Oil importers have been unable to either inflate or grow out of debt. Exchange rate fluctuations, and particularly stock flow adjustments (SFA) play a sizeable role. The report highlights the need to address debt transparency. Extrabudgetary items, especially for developing oil importers, need to be accounted for. Primary balances are key, but only to the extent that they capture the true state of government finances.

paris bennett 2023 updates: Current Status of and Future Directions for Assessing Technology Acceptance for Digital (Mental) Health Interventions Jennifer Apolinário-Hagen , Silvia Simbula, Giulia Paganin, 2024-09-02 Recently, digital interventions have proliferated and show promising results in preventing and treating common mental health disorders, such as depression, in different settings (e.g., workplaces). Digital interventions may have advantages over face-to-face interventions (e.g., more accessible; easily customisable; real-time monitoring). However, despite efforts made by healthcare systems worldwide (e.g., apps on prescription in Germany), actual adoption is still rather low in many countries. It is essential to understand innovation acceptance in order to tailor digital interventions and to measure user technology acceptance. In this way, determinants can be identified to derive strategies to promote acceptance. Technology acceptance has been studied extensively, resulting in the development of various theoretical models (e.g., Technology Acceptance Model-TAM; Unified Theory of Acceptance and Use of Technology-UTAUT, UTAUT2). Besides several methodological strengths, technology acceptance models also have various limitations, which makes it difficult to investigate causality or to generalize findings across different contexts, populations, and cultures.

paris bennett 2023 updates: Phenology: An Integrative Environmental Science Mark D. Schwartz, 2025-01-08 Phenology refers to recurring plant and animal life cycle stages, such as leafing and flowering, maturation of agricultural plants, emergence of insects, and migration of birds. It is also the study of these recurring events, especially their timing and relationships with weather and climate. Phenological phenomena all give a ready measure of the environment as viewed by the associated organism and are thus ideal indicators of the impact of local and global changes in weather and climate on the earth's biosphere. Assessing our changing world is a complex task that requires close cooperation from experts in biology, climatology, ecology, geography, oceanography, remote sensing, and other areas. Like its two predecessors, this third edition of Phenology is a synthesis of current phenological knowledge, designed as a primer on the field for global change and general scientists, students, and interested members of the public. With updated and new contributions from over sixty phenological experts, covering data collection, current research, methods, and applications, it demonstrates the accomplishments, progress over the last decade, and future potential of phenology as an integrative environmental science.

paris bennett 2023 updates: Magnetic Resonance and its Applications in Drug Formulation and Delivery Michael D Mantle, Leslie P Hughes, 2024-03-27 This book details the latest research and development in the use of magnetic resonance imaging and spectroscopy as tools to give quantitative insights concerning late stage pharmaceutical formulation, tablet manufacturing and drug dissolution behaviour. The book combines different facets of magnetic resonance and highlights the use of spatial resolution (MRI) and how this adds to the knowledge base to further our understanding of the microscopic physicochemical processes occurring during drug release from solid dosage forms. New topics, that have not been thoroughly reviewed elsewhere, are covered including the applications of solution state magnetic resonance in process scale up, reaction monitoring/understanding and process analytical technologies (PAT); dissolution testing; and counterfeit analysis. Solid state NMR and its role in understanding phase separation in dispersions, polymorphism and crystallography are included and magnetic resonance imaging and its use in assessing tablet dissolution performance, mass transport and mixing in hot melt extrusion (HME) are covered. Focusing on late stage development rather than molecular drug discovery provides a unique approach and the book will appeal to a diversity of disciplines using spectroscopy for study. Aimed at researchers in drug development, manufacture and formulation in both industry (pharmaceutical companies) and academia (pharmacy program), it includes examples, where appropriate, of studies on commercially available pharmaceutical products.

paris bennett 2023 updates: A Comparative History of the Literary Draft in Europe Olga Beloborodova, Dirk Van Hulle, 2024-11-15 Literary drafts are a constant in literatures of all ages and linguistic areas, and yet their role in writing processes in various traditions has seldom been the subject of systematic comparative scrutiny. In 38 chapters written by leading experts in many different fields, this book charts a comparative history of the literary draft in Europe and beyond. It is organised according to eight categories of comparison distributed over the volume's two parts, devoted respectively to 'Text' (i.e. the textual aspects of creative processes) and 'Beyond Text' (i.e. aspects of creative processes that are not necessarily textual). Across geographical, temporal, linguistic, generic and media boundaries, to name but a few, this book uncovers idiosyncrasies and parallels in the surviving traces of human creativity while drawing the reader's attention to the materiality of literary drafts and the ephemerality of the writing process they capture.

paris bennett 2023 updates: Migration und Covid-19 Uwe Hunger, Anas Ansar, Sascha Krannich, 2025-05-10 Der Band lädt dazu ein, Entwicklungen rund um die Themen Migration, Arbeit, Gesundheit und sozialer Schutz vor dem Hintergrund der COVID-19-Pandemie neu zu überdenken. In den Beiträgen wird deutlich, wie die Pandemie grundsätzliche Probleme der Migration, wie die plötzliche Schließung von Grenzen, schlechte Arbeitsbedingungen und willkürliche Entlassungen von Wanderarbeiter*innen sowie Benachteiligungen bei sozialen Dienstleistungen, wie unter einen Brennglas vergrößert und ihre Dringlichkeit deutlich gemacht hat. Mit dem Abschwächen der Pandemie sind sie damit keineswegs verschwunden, sondern allenfalls wieder aus dem Blickpunkt der öffentlichen Debatten verschwunden. Der Band zeigt auf, wo die Probleme liegen, wo hierfür die Verantwortlichkeiten liegen und wie eine für alle Seiten gewinnbringende Zusammenarbeit von Staaten und anderen Beteiligten möglich ist, um Missstände zu beheben und eine für alle vorteilhafte Migration zu ermöglichen.

paris bennett 2023 updates: Meeting the Enemy Kevin J. O'Brien, 2025-02-18 The catastrophic effects of climate change can seem overwhelming. What can we do? Who is responsible? In the tradition of Walter Wink, O'Brien reminds us that Christians have the power to name and oppose the enemies of God's good creation. The fossil fuel industry is just such an enemy. We can courageously confront these powers of evil and build a more faithful future. O'Brien paints the structural evils of the fossil fuel industry in sharp relief, helping readers understand that a Christian climate ethic must move beyond individualistic blame and individualistic solutions. While we bear responsibility for our personal actions, O'Brien demonstrates that fossil fuel companies are far more to blame for the contemporary climate crisis. His reframing shows us that the problem is the system. Having fully developed his case for the blame fossil fuel companies bear, O'Brien helps readers consider the options available to us as Christians to bear witness to evil and address the roots of this system of powers that bind us. O'Brien's approachable and engaging analysis makes Meeting the Enemy a powerful resource for both the classroom and informal educational settings.

paris bennett 2023 updates: Nutritional Status Assessment and its Links with Chronic Disease Prognosis and Surgical Outcomes Gabriela Villação Chaves, Barbara Perez Vogt, Geórgia das Graças Pena, Rodolfo Espinoza, 2024-11-06 Nutritional disorders are related to poor health outcomes including longer hospital stays, postoperative complications, cancer treatment toxicity, shorter survival, and reduced quality of life. The use of nutritional assessment tools for both diagnostic and outcome measure purposes has been widely explored. However, understanding of their responsiveness to nutritional interventions is still in its incipient stages. There has been increasing awareness of the importance of nutritional screening and assessment, especially the integration of skeletal muscle mass evaluation into clinical practice. In this context, a standardized definition of low muscle mass, myosteatosis, and muscle strength is still under debate. Since there is no clear definition of proper cut-off points for each assessment tool, the understanding and synthesis of the literature results are hindered. Moreover, the interplay among nutritional disorders has been under-explored in literature research. Efforts should be made to assess the association between comprehensive nutritional diagnosis and the prognosis of chronic diseases and surgical outcomes, as most studies provide information on one feature of nutritional status and do not explore standardized nutritional assessment widely.

paris bennett 2023 updates: Mis/Disinformation and Democratic Society Melissa Zimdars, 2025-06-16 Drawing on a variety of perspectives and methodologies, this collection explores the intricate relationship between mis- and disinformation and the functioning of democratic society. This book seeks to show how mis- and disinformation is destabilizing our collective confidence in institutions fundamental to the functioning of democratic society, including our electoral processes, our perceptions of trust in government officials and institutions, our healthcare, education, economic, and media systems; and even our communities and interpersonal relationships. Topics covered in this book include the role of Artificial Intelligence in automating deception; how financial crises and journalistic norms in the news industry create favorable conditions for the amplification and laundering of political disinformation; and how our emotional states impact our susceptibility to misinformation. Throughout, the authors provide nuanced definitions of key terms such as “conspiracy theory” and “digital democracy” which help level the field for future research. Mis/Disinformation and Democratic Society is recommended reading for researchers and advanced scholars in this dynamic area of study.

paris bennett 2023 updates: Mediensystem und öffentliche Sphäre in der Krise Hannah Broecker, Dennis Kaltwasser, 2024-08-19 Demokratie und Medien sind in der Massengesellschaft nicht voneinander zu trennen, denn es liegt in der Verantwortung der Medien, den Bürgern eine Orientierung in der komplexen Realität der Gesellschaft zu ermöglichen. Im Kontext der verstetigten Krisendiskurse der vergangenen Jahre wurden sowohl die Grundlagen für demokratische Debattenräume als auch deren gesellschaftliche Anwendung infrage gestellt. In diesem Band soll daher zunächst der Zustand des öffentlichen Debattenraumes untersucht werden. Ziel der Beiträge ist es, den gegenwärtigen Zustand und die Herausforderungen unserer (Medien-)Demokratie zu bewerten sowie Chancen und Impulse, die aus dieser Analyse erwachsen können, zu diskutieren. Im Fokus steht dabei sowohl der politische Diskurs über Demokratie als auch die demokratische Verfasstheit der öffentlichen Sphäre selbst.

paris bennett 2023 updates: The Experience of Translation Madeleine Campbell, Ricarda Vidal, 2024-04-19 Campbell, Vidal and their contributors expand the notion of translation beyond linguistic, modal and medial borders to embrace posthumanist perspectives through a holistic experiential epistemology which envisions translation as engaged, situated social practice. The first of two volumes, this book focuses on questions of materiality and play. Drawing together contributions on theory, methodology and practice from translators, scholars and practitioners working in the creative and performing arts, this book explores how contemporary, experiential acts of interpretation, mediation and negotiation can serve to bridge social and cultural discontinuities across time and space. These range from ancestral past to digital present, from rural to urban environments across the globe. Experiential translation applies a transdisciplinary lens to problematize views of translation and untranslatability traditionally bound by structuralist frames of reference and the reserve of professional linguistic translation. The chapters in this book apply this experiential lens to understand a pluriverse of creative translation practices where the translator's subject position in relation to the 'original' is transformed by the role of experimentation, creativity and play. This book and its companion volume The Translation of Experience: Cultural Artefacts in Experiential Translation will be of particular interest to translators and arts practitioners, scholars and researchers in the transdisciplinary field of humanities. Funding: This work was supported by UKRI under AHRC Grant AH/V008234/1, awarded to Ricarda Vidal, King's College London (Principal Investigator) and Madeleine Campbell, University of Edinburgh (Co-Investigator).

paris bennett 2023 updates: The Social Impact of Automating Translation Esther Monzó-Nebot, Vicenta Tasa-Fuster, 2024-12-30 This collection critically examines the practical impacts of machine translation (MT) through the lens of an ethics of care. It addresses the ideological issues in MT development linked to social hierarchies and explores the transformative potential of care ethics for more equitable technological progress. The volume explores the ideological constructs behind MT as a labor-saving technology, how these constructs are embedded in both its development and social reception, and how they manifest in biased outputs. The chapters cover the cultural roots of translation automation, its legal and political implications, and the needs of various stakeholders. These stakeholders include lay users, Indigenous communities, institutions, educators, and professionals in an increasingly multicultural society. The book also addresses individuals who require translation daily with varying degrees of familiarity with their own translation needs and the tools available. Through critical engagement with the social impacts of MT, the book advocates for an epistemology of care to foster social equity and democratic values in technological progress. This book will interest scholars in translation studies, law, and sociotechnology, as well as practicing translators, policymakers, technologists, and activists seeking ethical and inclusive approaches to machine translation and technological development.
