relationship building ebook: Higher Education Institutions and Digital Transformation Marcin Lis, 2023-03-30 The growing complexity, fluidity and instability of the environment as well as changing needs are challenges that both enterprises and higher education institutions must face. Higher education institutions understand that their key product, i.e. knowledge, is a value that can and should be offered to enterprises in a desirable form as a key to innovation and development as well as the basis of the necessary internal transformation to respond to requirements of our times. Attempts to explain the process of collaboration between higher education institutions and businesses based on an institutional perspective fail to capture the complexity of this process. The purpose of this book is to develop a model approach to managerial competencies that affect the innovativeness of enterprises and to identify internal and external key factors strengthening or limiting the impact of managerial competencies on the innovativeness of an enterprise including organizational structure, strategy, organizational culture and more. It will be of value to researchers, academics, and students in the fields of entrepreneurship, innovation, management, strategy, and will be particularly useful to organizations that are aware of their operating conditions in the knowledge-based economy and of the impact of the COVID-19 pandemics on the acceleration of the digital transformation of the contemporary world. relationship building ebook: Neural Gospels: The Digital Rewriting of Faith in a Post-Human World Pastor Yves Gerard, Neural Gospels: The Digital Rewriting of Faith in a Post-Human World is a provocative and visionary exploration of how artificial intelligence, biotechnology, and transhumanist ideologies are reshaping the language, practice, and very meaning of faith in the 21st century. In a world where neural networks write sermons, digital prophets emerge on social media platforms, and consciousness itself is being uploaded into clouds of code, the sacred is no longer confined to ancient texts or traditional rituals—it is being rewritten by machines. This groundbreaking work examines the collision between theology and technology, offering a deep and critical look at what happens when the divine meets the digital. Drawing from scripture, science fiction, posthuman philosophy, and real-world advancements in AI and neurotheology, Neural Gospels dares to ask: Can a machine encounter God? Will future faith be mediated through algorithms instead of sacraments? And what does salvation look like in an age of synthetic consciousness? Far from a dystopian warning or utopian dream, this book navigates the paradoxes and promises of our time. It challenges readers to rethink the boundaries of soul, spirit, and self in a society where the human body is increasingly viewed as hackable hardware and the mind as programmable software. It explores whether spiritual authority can remain relevant when AI can simulate mystical experiences and generate religious texts more fluently than human theologians. From cyber churches and metaverse baptisms to AI-driven Bible translations and virtual resurrections, Neural Gospels charts the emergence of a post-human spirituality—one that questions whether divine inspiration can coexist with digital creation. It probes the theological implications of mind-uploading, digital immortality, and synthetic prophets, raising urgent ethical and spiritual questions about identity, faith, and the future of religious belief. Written for theologians, futurists, cultural critics, technologists, and curious seekers alike, this book is both intellectually rigorous and spiritually attuned. It invites readers to wrestle with the sacred in an era of artificial gods and neural revelations, challenging them to discern the voice of the true Shepherd amidst the noise of machine learning and digital prophecy. Ultimately, Neural Gospels is not just about technology's impact on religion—it is a meditation on what it means to be human when the traditional boundaries between creator and created, organic and artificial, sacred and secular, begin to blur. In this bold theological treatise for the digital age, faith is not lost—it is transformed, rewritten in code, and preached from the cloud.
